DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-20, drawn to a process (for calculating helium content of stainless steel components), classified in class 376, subclass 245.
  - II. Claims 21-29, drawn to an apparatus (computer for simulating helium content of stainless steel components), classified in class 434, subclass 218.

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the computer can be used to practice another and materially different process, e.g., burn-up calculations for in-core fuel management or for nuclear materials accounting purposes. Alternatively, the process can be performed by hand or manual calculations.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3663

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

2. If invention I is elected, applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect one of the following disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim appears generic to Group I, and claim 21 is generic to Group II.

- A: Wherein neutron fluence is determined by measuring neutron fluxes (see claim 2, Fig. 2 and specification on page 7, paragraph 0024).
- B: Wherein neutron fluence is determined by calculating neutron fluxes using a Monte Carlo radiation transport methodology (see claim 3, Fig. 2 and specification on page 8, paragraph 0025).

3. Upon election of either invention I or II, applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect one of the following disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable (e.g., see claims 5, 13 and 22, and the specification on page 5, paragraph 0016).

- C: Wherein neutron fluxes are calculated using a Monte Carlo computer program run in a criticality mode.
- D: Wherein neutron fluxes are calculated using a Monte Carlo computer program run in a combination of criticality mode and fixed source mode.

4. Upon election of either invention I or II, applicant is further required under 35

U.S.C. 121 to elect one of the following disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

- E: Wherein neutron fluxes are calculated at a beginning of a full power phase of a fuel cycle (e.g., see claims 8, 16 and 25).
- F: Wherein neutron fluxes are calculated at a middle of a full power phase of a fuel cycle (e.g., see claims 9, 17 and 26).
- G: Wherein neutron fluxes are calculated at an end of a full power phase of a fuel cycle (e.g., see claims 10, 18 and 27).

5. Applicant is advised that a reply to the species requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
